

SCOTT COUNTY
COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Looking Forward, Giving Back

2011 Annual Report

Foundation Report

Our newly adopted motto, “Looking Forward, Giving Back,” describes perfectly the vision of the Scott County Community Foundation. As we invest our donors’ dollars into permanent endowment funds, we are not only looking ahead to meet the needs of the community in the future, but we are supporting causes in our community today.

This year was full of activity. Our executive director, L.L. Lowry, retired in May and came back to serving on the Board of Directors. He was succeeded by Jaime Toppe, who started with the Community Foundation six years ago. We have partnered again with United Way of Scott County, offering financial services as well as sharing our office space. We participated in Lilly Endowment’s pilot internship program, with Lilly’s goals to help build healthy Indiana community foundations and to provide college students with real-life work experiences. Having interns allowed us to work on special projects, including compiling a Scott County veterans book and a promotional video for the Foundation. We partnered with Hanover College to provide grant opportunities in the arts field to benefit students. We had several new scholarship funds established to provide financial help to students. We’ve welcomed new board members and have had meaningful conversations about the needs of the community and the direction of the Foundation. Our staff has done a stellar job at cutting expenses while still providing the same high level of donor relations and service as always.

While these are all wonderful things, the real stories are the things that were accomplished in the community because of the generosity of our donors. Seventy-five children received backpacks of food every weekend during the school year so they would not go hungry, thanks to a new program, Blessings in a Backpack. A real community effort made possible for the opening of the Lexington Good Faith Preschool, providing free preschool services to children and giving them a head start in their education. Fifty families were helped with rent and utility assistance during the winter months, through the Scott County Clearinghouse. The Humane Society received funds to help with medical care, spaying and neutering animals at the shelter. Several local teachers were able to provide creative classroom learning experiences for their students. The Scott County Family YMCA was able to provide scholarships to youth and families so they could participate in their programs. Sixteen students were awarded for their hard work by receiving scholarships so they could attend college. Support was provided to the Scott County Heritage Center and Museum, a cultural gem for our community. Scott County patients who have had transplants received assistance for ongoing medical needs.

And these are just some of the many more grants that were awarded in Scott County! These were all made possible because of people who are passionate about causes and want to see these kinds of results for generations to come.

In closing, on behalf of the Board of Directors, we want to thank you for your continued support of the Scott County Community Foundation and our community. I encourage you to think deeply about the kind of future you want for yourself, your children, your grandchildren, and our citizens. You can make that vision a reality, and be a part of making a real impact in Scott County.

God Bless,

Joe Wolf
Chairman

Scott County Community Foundation meets national standards for operational quality, donor service and accountability in the community foundation sector. The National Standards Seal by our name indicates official confirmation from the Council on Foundations that we have met the most rigorous standards in philanthropy. It affirms our commitment to financial security, transparency and accountability. It says our grantmaking includes an open, competitive process designed to address the changing needs of our community. The National Standards Seal also confirms our history of honoring donors’ wishes—to support historical preservation, cultivate gardens, help the needy, educate our citizens—and support countless other important causes.

Why Give Through the Community Foundation?

There are several advantages of charitable and philanthropic giving through the Scott County Community Foundation, including:

Local Impact. Our board of directors and committee members are comprised of citizens in our community who are familiar with the needs of Scott County. They identify local issues and award grants where they are needed most in a variety of areas. We also collaborate with many local agencies, sharing resources and the vision for a better community.

Flexibility. You may select from many funds we offer, or create your own fund. You may make a gift with cash, or be creative with shares of stock, life insurance, real estate, and more. You may also include the Foundation in your will or trust through a bequest, or as a beneficiary in a life insurance or retirement plan.

Tax Benefits. As a public charity, we offer the highest level of tax benefits for charitable giving. Please consult with your financial/tax advisor for details.

Privacy. You may choose to have your gifts publically recognized or to remain anonymous. Either way, you have the security of knowing that your personal information will remain confidential.

Stewardship of Funds. Our Board, Finance Committee, professional staff and investment managers provide prudent stewardship of donor funds. Because we manage a variety of funds, we can pool investment and administration, providing full services to each fund at a fraction of the cost of administering each separately.

Lasting Legacy. The Foundation provides permanence. Your gifts will benefit the agencies and residents of Scott County for generations to come, ensuring your legacy will continue.

Types of Funds

You may choose the fund that best meets your charitable intentions.

Designated: These funds are for a school, government agency, or specific 501(c)(3) charity selected by the donor, such as a museum or church.

Donor Advised: These funds provide support to qualified charitable organizations or purposes with input from the donor and/or family/representatives.

Field of Interest: These funds are for a general field selected by the donor, such as arts, education, healthcare, etc.

Pass Through: A “charitable checking” account. A donor may recommend several organizations in which to receive funding. Funds are not invested in the market.

Scholarship Fund: These funds are for students to receive assistance for educational expenses. You may place restrictions on the scholarship, and the Foundation’s scholarship committee selects the best candidate, with your advice if you so choose.

Unrestricted: You place no restriction on how the fund is to be used, entrusting those decisions to the Board of Directors, now and generations to come.

Funds

Anyone can add to an existing fund at any time in any amount. Whether your passion is education, the arts, historic preservation, youth, elderly, faith or the community, there is a fund to fit your needs. For more about these funds, please visit our website.

New Funds in 2011

Phyllis Calvin taught at Austin Middle School for 30 years. Because of her never-ending love for both the job and her students, she decided to establish the Phyllis Calvin Educational Endowment Fund. This scholarship will benefit graduates at Austin High School who plan to major in education.

"I wanted to show that an individual did not have to die in order to have a scholarship started in their name," said Phyllis. "Plus, I will have the joy of meeting some of the deserving recipients. It is my desire that the recipients of this scholarship will not only finish their degree but will also have the desire to try new things and have many adventures beyond their everyday surroundings."

Robert "Bob" Comer was known by many for his strong love of people, greeting everyone he saw with a smile and a warm handshake. He was known to have remarked to many that an education was an important tool for a young person to possess, simply because that was something that could never be taken away once it was acquired. He operated the farm on which he had grown up on, eventually being named a River Friendly Farmer of Indiana by then-Governor Joe Kernan for his eco-friendly farming practices. Upon his death, his family established the Robert G. Comer Memorial Scholarship Fund. It is awarded to a high school senior who has had a life shaped by agriculture and by farming much like Bob's own life was, and who plans to continue to grow themselves as they pursue a college degree of their own.

Shelley Comer Akers, a young mother to Alexis and Addison, and wife to Kyle, was tragically killed in a tractor accident in August 2010. Shelley was the office manager for Purdue Extension and had been very involved in the 4-H program. She had also served as a member of the Community Foundation's scholarship committee for several years. "Shelley truly believed in the 4-H program because she knew it helped children and youth. Shelley was one of the people who helped build the Scott County program into what it is today," said Extension Educator Jackie Benham. Her family established the Shelley Comer Akers Memorial Scholarship Fund for students who were involved at 4-H at some point in their lives. Shelley left an indelible mark on all who knew her, and her legacy will continue to live on through this scholarship.

Mallory Lainhart was a beautiful, brave little baby girl who lost her fight to live at the tender age of nine months old. She was born with a fatal congenital heart defect, Hypoplastic Left Heart Syndrome, in which the left side of her heart was underdeveloped. Doctors said it was a miracle she was alive. When she lost her fight to live, it was not because she gave up, but because her body was too weak to go on. Her family established the Mallory Lainhart Memorial Scholarship Fund for students who plan to major in the healthcare field. The family hopes the recipients will one day save the life of a child, or perhaps even find a cure for heart defects.

Promote a healthy lifestyle. Teach teamwork. Develop leadership skills. Learn about good sportsmanship. Encourage a focus on education. These are all goals of the Scott County Youth Football League, and with their funding of the Scott County Youth Football League Scholarship, they have taken their support of education one step further. "The League wants to encourage every player to continue their education," said a volunteer. The scholarship is awarded to graduating seniors in good standing with the League.

Grants to the Community

Each year, we invite charitable organizations to submit applications for grants from our unrestricted and field-of-interest funds during our Community Grants Program. This year we awarded about $67,000 for charitable projects in Scott County. In addition, we awarded over $58,000 from our donor-advised, designated, and pass-through funds.

Hundreds of students were able to participate in 4-H projects in the classroom, including these students in Mrs. Doriot's class at Scottsburg Middle School. The grant to Scott County 4-H was made possible from our unrestricted funds.

Austin Middle School students Matt Bryant, Dylan Campbell, Shawn Sizemore, Shawn Mobley, Isaiah Burnett and Caleb Tutterow in Lee Anne Hahn's class show the appliances purchased through a grant from our unrestricted funds. The stove, refrigerator, washer and dryer allows the students to learn about daily living skills. This will enable them to be better prepared for the work force and increase their independence.

Board members L.L. Lowry and Connie Kenninger awarded a grant to Ishmael White of the Austin High School Alumni Association. The grant is from the AHS Alumni Education Fund and supports scholarships and educational efforts of the alumni association.

Melanie Foster, president of the Humane Society of Scott County, received a grant from board member Dan Slattery. The funds were used for medical care, spaying and neutering of cats and dogs at the animal shelter. The grant was made possible from the Dr. William and Diann Scott Memorial Donor Advised Fund.

Scott County Sheriff Dan McClain shows a Mobile Data Terminal, which is used during the course of traffic, crash and criminal investigations. The device increases an officer's independence when on patrol, improves safety and saves time. The Sheriff's Department received a grant from our unrestricted funds to purchase three terminals.

“Bigs” and “Littles” discuss the rules for meeting with their new friends through the Big Brothers Big Sisters school-based mentoring program. BBBS received grants from our unrestricted funds to purchase a laptop and fund group activities.

Volunteers Virginia Wormley, Becky Thomas and Sara Campbell pack backpacks for Blessings in a Backpack, which provides food for children every weekend during the school year. The organization received a grant from our unrestricted funds.

Scott County Community Clearinghouse Executive Director Nelson Spaulding accepts a grant from Board Chairman Joe Wolf. The grant came from the Scott County Indigent Care Fund, and helps provide food and housing assistance.

Board member Adam Gibson presents a grant to Austin High School Academic Bowl Coordinator Euleda Turner. Earnings from the AHS Academic Team Fund assist the team with expenses in hosting and attending invitationals.

Students were provided with free preschool services at Lexington Good Faith Preschool, making them better prepared for kindergarten. The grant was made possible from our unrestricted funds.

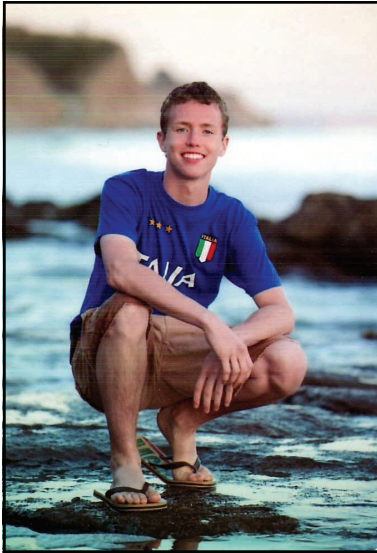

Johnson Elementary students helped clean up and revitalize their nature trail with a grant from the Sunnyside Reunion Memorial Fund.

Scottsburg Lions Club member Scott Murphy presented a grant to National Youth Advocate Program Regional Director Amanda Davidson. The grant was made possible from the Scottsburg Lions Club/D.Q. Reid Memorial Fund. NYAP licenses foster homes, parenting services and uses positive, adult role models to provide advocate services to foster children.

2011 Lilly Endowment Community Scholar

Lilly Scholars receive 4-year scholarships for tuition expenses plus $800 for books and related expenses. The committee had many talented students apply this year, and one was chosen. Chad Jones, a graduate of Scottsburg High School, is attending Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology where he is majoring in computer engineering. The value of his scholarship is worth $165,725. Lilly Endowment has awarded 30 scholarships through the Scott County Community Foundation since 1998.

“Being halfway through my second quarter at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology, I could not imagine being anywhere else! Rose-Hulman has stimulated and challenged me more than I ever have, and I love it. I love the small atmosphere of Rose-Hulman, how every professor knows who you are and how you’re doing and continues to help you even after you’re done with their class. The students here are very close, as we find ourselves in need of the help of each other to learn and grow as scientists and engineers. All in all, Rose-Hulman is a family, a family that I am so grateful to have the opportunity to be a part of, thanks to the support of the Lilly Endowment and my community.

I have found that I love the career choice that I have chosen for myself. Computer Engineering and Computer Science is such an expanding field that there is no limit to the opportunities available to me. With 100% of the Rose-Hulman students in my field being offered at least one or more careers right out of college, I’ll already be on my way to career success, and eventually creating my own startup company.

I’d like to say thank you so much to everyone in our community for the continued support, and to the Lilly Endowment for allowing me to have the greatest possible education!”

Mission

The mission of Scott County Community Foundation is to be a leader in attracting, managing and focusing the philanthropic resources which meet the community needs and enrich the quality of life for all citizens of Scott County.
